SHOW THE WAY with a strong, iconic expression

Compass Totem is a range of outdoor signs with an expression that is both eye-catching and timeless.

The range is born of the creativity and innovation that have always been integral parts of the Modulex identity. As such, it is a distinctive post, the ID Profile, from the famous product range Compass that forms the design centre point of Compass Totem. Simplicity, function and quality in its purest form.

With its iconic design, Compass Totem matches numerous architectural styles; it will also suit a wide variety of environments – even towards the most heavily trafficked end of the scale. At the same time, the high quality of the materials, design and surface treatment ensures that Compass Totem is made to withstand the effects of wind, weather and damage.

Quality

Modulex' position as market leader in the field of architectural sign solutions is expressed in our design, materials, engineering, surface treatment and fitting processes.

Compass Totem is no exception. You will therefore note that everything has been extremely well thought out, and that no faults have slipped through our meticulous quality control.

Materials

The post and contrast profile (strip) are made of extruded aluminium. This provides the sign with maximum strength and simultaneously highlights the quality and the design expression that are something of a Modulex trademark.

Colours and lights

Both posts and wing panels can be supplied in 128 standard colours. Moreover, Compass Totem is available in more than 3,000 special colours. At no extra cost!

The contrast strip on the post can be delivered in colours other than that used for the post itself. This allows almost limitless combination options. For an even more distinctive effect, the strip can be supplied in LED lights.

Text and graphics

Graphics and text can be applied to the posts in vinyl or as digital print. If you choose projected panels, these can also be adorned with print-on-panel text and graphics. The limitations here can be described very briefly: there are none.
